Welcome to AMAC

What is AMAC?

- AMAC works with colleges and universities to provide students with textbooks and accommodations that best meet their needs, including:

E-Text, Braille, Audiobook, and Captioning

How does AMAC work?

- Students meet with their school's disability services office to place an order for their textbooks in the preferred format

E-text

E-Text Formats

- PDF - It retains the same layout as the print textbook and includes bookmarks for navigation, synchronized highlighting of text and audio.
- MS Word Doc - This format is best for students who use screen reading software such as JAWS and also need alternative text descriptions added to images.
- Audiobook format - audio only, plus headings for navigation.
- Other specialized formats are available including MathML and DAISY.

Captioning

- Live remote captioning for classes or school events
 - Chat with captionist via Skype
 - Recommended to use external microphone and sit at the front of the classroom
- Asynchronous text interpreting for online courses
- CART
- Transcription services
- Video captioning
 - Completed videos uploaded to Student Download Center

Frankenstein

never again meet, Walton meets and loves Frankenstein, the Creature is reunited with Frankenstein, as a corpse; the Creature in the last scene meets Walton, and a message, of understanding if not love, passes between them. The plot of the last volume has taken a decisive turn in the direction of failure to breed, or to breed healthily.

Notes For Page: 44

When it comes to parenting, Frankenstein is himself a monster. He will not acknowledge his only child, the Being he chooses to call Monster, Fiend, and Demon, though no human father ever played so thorough-going a role in any birth. (The good reasons for the critic to avoid Frankenstein's harshest most unpaternal acts of naming should be apparent.) Frankenstein repeatedly illustrates, but ironically, Lawrence's scholarly observations about parenting—the medical mishaps to which the birth-process is subject; the one sure
